

Water for Everyone

About these resources

These resources have been produced with the support of the UK Department for International Development, as part of Tourism Concern's 'Empowering Coastal Communities in South India' programme.

Education consultant: Roger Knill

Research: Mia Browne, Tourism Concern

Editor: Alison Stancliffe, with Sarah Upfield and Rachel Noble, Tourism Concern

Design: Peter Bishop and Rory Hodgson, Tourism Concern

Picture research: Todd Cooper, Tourism Concern

We are grateful to all who gave permission to use photographs in the image banks.

We are also very grateful to Geography teachers in Leeds, London and Tyneside who reviewed the early drafts of these materials for us.

Tell us what you think

We welcome feedback on how the resources worked for you in the classroom. Also comments on how any of the units might be improved. Please send these to info@tourismconcern.org.uk

Support Tourism Concern's vital work

If these resources have prompted you and your pupils to think more critically about tourism issues, please consider supporting the work of Tourism Concern by making a donation or becoming a member. You can join as an individual or sign up your school under our Institutional Membership programme. Click here for further details today
